Findings:

When loading right hind, Champion had a head/eye elevation of 2" and fetlock drop was reduced by 1.2" in comparison to the left hind. This was noticed even more on a right hand turn. After an abaxial sesamoid nerve block Champion appeared sound and measurements returned to those consistent with the opposite limb. Flexion of the fetlock was positive. Radiographs showed no sig. possibility, although ultrasound of the superficial sesamoidean ligament showed swelling in and around this area. See below for possible condition.
